- Festival Steel Seating system is a versatile modular system that meets the demands of modern environments and enhances public spaces. Straight and curved seats and benches can be designed to any length, any internal radii above 600mm and in any combination. Festival Seating is popular in educational and healthcare establishments, and civic spaces.
- Seats are produced in numerous standard designs, including straight and back to back seats, plus inward and outward facing curved seat segments and circular seats.
- Almost endless permutations are possible that can retain the strength, safety and vandal resistant features of the individual straight seats and benches.
- Material: Mild steel, galvanised and polyester powder coated.
- Colours: A full standard range of RAL colours is available.
- Seating Sections: Seating is also available with Iroko hardwood slats from renewable sources.
- Options: Arm rests can be provided at any position. Freestanding legs, surface trim plates, and demountable ground sockets are also available.
- Customisation: Engraved motifs can be commissioned for endcaps and arm rests. Plaques may also be required.
