M/s Tipping,

Your letter of 14th April refers.

If you look at the floor plan I can explain the position. The access to the office is direct from York Avenue and through the door shown at the bottom of the plan. The "bakery store" is accessed from Alport Avenue and via a roller door in the wall (not marked on the floor plan) but at the extreme top right hand wall.

There is no internal connection between the "bakery store" and the general office.

The toilet is accessible only via the door to the kitchen. The stairs are to the flat above and are accessible only from Alport Avenue. They obtrude into the toilet only by way of a box type enclosure from the ceiling in the toilet.

I would stress that the "bakery store" is purely a store room and is used in connection with a bakery elsewhere. Occasionally something will be put into the store and something else will be taken out. There is no permanent occupation of this room. I would stress also that the two businesses are in no way connected and no business activity takes place in the "bakery store"

I hope all the above is clear. Please allow for the fact the we are not planners and I have explained things as best I could!

Sincerely,

Tony Moore (on behalf of Asghar Khan)
