

Local Labour Agreement

PrettyLittleThing.com Limited (PLT) is a global online fashion retailer targeting all females with fast fashion, offering womenswear, footwear, accessories, homeware and beauty as well as ranges such as Petite, Tall, Maternity, Shape and PLT+.

Since being founded in January 2012 the PLT HQ team has grown to 420 employees and we now require a new Headquarters to enable our continued growth over the coming years.

Currently based in Ancoats with a desire to remain in the local area due to a large amount of their employees living locally to their Headquarters. The new Headquarters at Ancoats works, Pollard Street will allow them to expand Headcount from 420 up to c.600 creating many jobs in the local geographic area.

PLT has a commitment to attracting, developing and retaining local talent and currently provides employment and development opportunities for all levels of staff with a keen commitment to employing young talent in the local area. They currently provide both apprenticeships and university placements in order engage young talent in their business. They also provide support to all their staff in terms of:

- Vocational training
- Leadership and Management Training
- Educational Qualifications
- Free Healthcare
- Wellbeing initiatives
- Childcare support
- Hybrid working

PLT is committed to maintaining a working environment underpinned by decency and fairness and where equality and diversity are recognised, encouraged and valued.

They recruit, train, develop and promote on the basis of knowledge, skills and behaviours alone.