

Connectivity to Hyperoptic Enclosure FDP1

The cable will leave DP1a and travel up the riser to the 2nd floor where FDP1 is located. The route 15m.

Picture showing route.

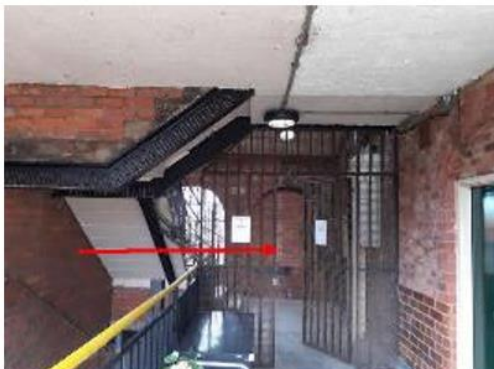

Picture showing cable route.

FDP2 Location:

|                                                                                     |                                                                                      |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|   |   |
| Picture showing cable route from FDP1.                                              | Picture showing typical cable run along tray work.                                   |
|  |  |
| Picture showing cable route from FDP2.                                              | Picture showing cable route from FDP2.                                               |