Dear Mr McCoombe

I'm writing you this email after receiving a letter regarding planning permission for a property [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] number 77 Averill Street, M40 1PD.

It's been proposed to turn this 2/3 bedroom terrace into a 5 bedroom property with multi occupancy which I have very big concerns about.

Firstly I bought my property several years ago on a pretty quiet street with friendly neighbours of sole occupancy homes [REDACTED]. And now one of those homes will be occupied by who exactly? Students? Ex offenders? Some kind of half way house? Or even Air B&B?

My house is a family home for two young children and we have never had any bother on this street but with the uncertainty of what's looming should I be looking to sell my children's home and move them away from possible harm?

With no idea about the type of people that may be lurking around the property and the people they attract I feel very anxious.

The people stated working on 77 Averill Street back in around April, they have already made life very disruptive in all that time sometimes starting work as early as 7am and on Sunday's also. Taking up all the parking at the front of the house with up to 3 vans at a time. Then there's the skips at the side of the house that stay full for weeks on end attracting rats, which have been spotted and kids setting fires in them.

[REDACTED]
I'm asking you to please consider my concerns when making your decision with this property and the people they may be putting in to occupy the building. This street is mostly occupied by families with children and we don't want anything that could ruin our family lives.

Kind regards [REDACTED]
