

Proposed: Built up letters with gold leaf faces, black returns and white slab halo illumination mounted to a black fascia panel. Sub text to be fret cut and pushed through. New externally illuminated landlords projection sign.

Existing

|                                                  |                                             |
|--------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|
| Revisions                                        |                                             |
| TECHNICAL SIGNS |                                             |
| Drawn by                                         | Rob                                         |
| Project                                          | PizzaExpressManchesterOxford Street |
| Date                                             | 05/01/22                                    |
| Revision                                         | E                                           |