- o Policy SP1 - Spatial Principles
- o Policy EN1 - Design Principles
- o Policy EN 19 - Waste Management
- o The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF)

For reasons to be outlined below, it is considered the proposal accords with the principles of this policy document.

Materiality

Section 96A of the 1990 Act (as inserted on 1st October 2009 by sec.190 of the Planning Act 2008) allows a local planning authority in England to make a change to any planning permission relating to land in its area if it is satisfied that the change is not material. In deciding whether a change is material, the authority must have regard to the effect of the change, together with any previous non-material changes, on the planning permission as originally granted.

The application relates to an approval for the non-material changes to the approved planning permission 128713/FH/2020, to amend the roof material of the single storey rear extension to tiled; reconfigure the bi-fold door and Velux roof windows; and removal of parapet to party wall. The proposed changes are relatively minor and are considered appropriate for its residential context, the applicant seeks to use materials to match the existing to help reduce the visual impact of the changes and are not considered to give rise to harm.

Overall it is considered that the proposed revisions are of a minor nature and would have no more impact upon either visual or residential amenity than the approved scheme. The amendments would accord with policies SP1 and DM1 of the Core Strategy and the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) and saved policy DC1 of the UDP

Human Rights Act 1998 considerations

This application needs to be considered against the provisions of the Human Rights Act 1998. Under Article 6, the applicants (and those third parties, including local residents, who have made representations) have a right to a fair hearing and to this end the local planning authority must give full consideration to their comments.

Protocol 1 Article 1, and Article 8 where appropriate, confer(s) a right of respect for a person's home, other land and business assets. In taking account of all material considerations, including Council policy as set out in the Core Strategy and saved policies of the Unitary Development

Plan, the Director of Planning, Building Control & Licensing has concluded that some rights conferred by these articles on the applicant(s)/objector(s)/resident(s) and other occupiers and owners of nearby land that might be affected may be interfered with but that that interference is in accordance with the law and justified by being in the public interest and on the basis of the planning merits of the development proposal. She believes that any restriction on these rights posed by the recommendation given is proportionate to the wider benefits of and that such a decision falls within the margin of discretion afforded to the Council under the Town and Country Planning Acts.
