Comment Reasons:

Comment: I've been to gigs at the Etihad arena in Eastlands. It's the most awful place to get away from at the end of the night. Queuing like cattle for a tram only to find that as it has taken so long to get into the centre of Manchester you have missed the last outgoing tram to your destination. This happens all the time, I've always had to pay for a taxi to get me back to Radcliffe. I don't anticipate that another arena will be any different. Also, why build a new arena when there is one which is fantastic in the city centre with great access by foot, bus, rail and tram. What a waste of time and money.
