Comment Reasons:

Comment: Have you ever tried to get to a concert at the Etihad from Rochdale? If the concert is on during the week I will have to take time off work to attend as there is no parking close by and the transport does not work properly i.e. over 40 minutes just to get into Manchester on the tram and then we would have to get another tram or taxi to the stadium. Why are not looking at the little towns who will suffer as usual who have poor transport links into Manchester and you are now planning on making it difficult to get to concerts by public transport so we will have to take our cars and park over 20 minutes away when we have a more than perfect venue in the centre of Manchester which has the best links to small towns i.e. Rochdale. Andy Burnham wants us to give up our cars and you are now trying to allow a stadium to be built which would guarantee a larger proportion not being able to get to the venue without driving.
