Comment:Hi

I am getting in touch about the plans to build another arena in Manchester which would affect the current status of the arena we already have.

You really shouldn't build a new one, from what I read and saw in a video the new one would just be like the O2 arena and honestly I'm not too keen on the O2.

I really enjoy going to the Manchester arena and I have been going here since 2006, it's a great venue and plenty of places to park near by and places to get food and hotels close by too.

I don't know why you would want to get rid of Manchester arena when it's such a good venue for concerts.
