

- New black polyester powder coated roof edge trim
- Art deco type '1 EXPRESS'. In brushed stainless steel, in reference to Daily Express Building, London. Letter size 400 x 400 x 30mm deep on concealed pin fixings see al(05)0060-P02 for elevation
- Cracked timber boarding to fascia to be removed and replaced with a new soffit fascia - 5 timber panels with 10mm shadow gaps.
- Lighting replaced
- Cracked timber boarding to soffit to be removed and replaced with a new black polyester powder coated soffit with 10mm shadow gap joints aligning with entrance screen mullions
- Black polyester powder coating to match the approved pressure plate sample gloss finish of the facade refurbishment works as approved 122682/LO/2019
- Existing supporting columns to be relined and coated with black polyester powder coating to match approved pressure plate sample gloss finish of the facade refurbishment works as approved 122682/LO/2019 10mm recessed joints to match transoms of glazing behind Existing plinth
- Existing steel column support

- Poor quality painted plywood removed and replaced with black polyester powder coated cladding panels

Photo view Inside void of existing canopy

Photos inside canopy roof void

- Existing hung timber supports to plywood painted canopy soffit
- Existing black sprayed metal profile roof deck - 1999-2000 refurbishment works assumed
- Existing supporting steel beam

- Existing hung timber supports to plywood painted canopy soffit
- Existing black sprayed metal profile roof deck - 1999-2000 refurbishment works assumed
- Existing supporting steel beam

- Existing hung timber supports to plywood painted canopy soffit
- Existing black sprayed metal profile roof deck - 1999-2000 refurbishment works assumed
- Existing supporting steel beam
- Redundant ductwork left in void

The fronting canopy mirrors the entrance canopy to the rear of the building on Luna Street covering the access to the plant room and basement car park ramp

PLANNING

revision: P01
date: 18.06.2020
note: planning issue