Comment Reasons:

Comment: There seems to be a lack of space for shops cafes and restaurants. Having lived in chorlton for the past 8 years and recently moved to stretford I have seen the high street slowly die.

The flats also seem to be too high and lacking any real affordable housing. All the people who make chorlton a great place to live are being forced out due to unrealistic property prices and new build property being too expensive. There is a chance to fix this with this development and if not done correctly the chorlton we all no a love will be lost forever
