Comment Reasons:

Comment: The Fields were bequeathed by the Council for public benefit and are a much loved local green oasis in the heart of a highly built up area. This beautiful space provides a carbon sink for local residents and has naturally rewilded leaving a stunning environment enjoyed by young and old. Given the amount of nearby semi-derelict or unused buildings which could be developed for housing I find it shocking that Manchester Metropolitan University and Manchester City Council could contemplate destroying this incredible resource. I fully and whole heartedly support this community led planning application to provide a protected space for local people and, indeed, all Manchester residents.
