Comment Reasons:

Comment: The proposed revised buildings will destroy local independent businesses, is an eye sore with poor cheap design and utilising poor materials. Having so many huge tower blocks will completely ruin chorlton high street and centre, it's a disgrace that a company would amend plans that had already been agreed at such late notice. With so many new flats local infrastructure and public services will be compromised - we already have huge issues with water pressure which United utilities continuously fail to address. These proposed buildings would create over population of our area, reduce access to health services, schools and other key local provision.
