Please state why a Lawful Development Certificate should be granted

This report that accompanies this application sets out a clear and substantiated case for the lawful use of the site at 29–31 Smedley Road for open-air storage purposes. It is supported by legal precedent, planning history, factual evidence, and the application of relevant statutory principles.

The following conclusions are drawn:

The site retains the characteristics and infrastructure necessary to accommodate employment-related use and has consistently done so over the relevant period.

There is no evidence of abandonment, as defined in Hartley v MHLG—the key tests of physical condition, period of non-use, intervening use, and owner’s intention all weigh against such a finding.

The site use has been of variable intensity but consistent in character for storage purposes, as acknowledged in Panton and Farmer and reaffirmed in Thurrock BC. Variations in intensity of use are not, in themselves, evidence of illegality or abandonment.

The owner’s intent to maintain the employment/storage use has been demonstrated through statutory declarations, lease agreements, site security, and records of ongoing maintenance.

In accordance with Section 191 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 and related guidance in the National Planning Practice Guidance, the applicant respectfully requests that the Local Planning Authority issue a Certificate of Lawfulness confirming the lawful existing use of the site for open-air storage.

Such a certificate will provide certainty, regularise the planning position, and facilitate proper stewardship and future use of this strategically located urban landholding

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.
