There are some exemptions. View government planning guidance on fire statements or access the fire statement template and guidance.
- Permission In Principle - If you are applying for Technical Details Consent on a site that has been granted Permission In Principle, please include the relevant details in the description below.

Description

Please describe details of the proposed development or works including any change of use

Alterations to the facade of the existing property at the front and the side. We are proposing to bring the basement into use (currently storage) as a home office. To provide adequate amenity and access to the new basement apartment, the existing light wells at the front of the property will be increased in size, just enough to allow us to install windows that will bring sufficient light into the basement for the comfort of its' inhabitants. There are two windows in the existing lightwells that have been blocked up. We are also proposing a new external side access (a requirement to comply with fire safety regulations), and an additional lightwell at the side (also for amenity to inhabitants). Internally we are reinstating a stair from ground floor to the basement (accessed from the hallway at ground floor.. The stair is designed in a way that will allow it the basement to be connected to the ground floor apartment internally (this is a previous and original access route that we wish to reinstate n the future). We are proposing to enhance the street scene and aesthetic of the front of the property by adding planting/vegetation to the boundary fences.

Biodiversity net gain

Biodiversity net gain is a legal requirement for planning permission introduced on 12 February 2024. All applications are required to either provide detailed information proving there will be a biodiversity increase; or explain why the requirement does not apply to the development.

Find out more about biodiversity net gain, and access digital tools from our partners that can help determine if you are exempt, or produce the biodiversity metric information required.

Do you believe that, if the development is granted permission, the general Biodiversity Gain Condition (as set out in Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (as amended)) would apply?

◯ Yes
⊘ No

Biodiversity net gain has been introduced as a general condition for planning permission. As set out in The Environment Act 2021: "grants of planning permission in England [are] to be subject to a condition to secure that the biodiversity gain objective is met". Therefore, in England, all planning permissions are generally subject to biodiversity gain rules, unless they are specifically exempt or out of scope.

If you have stated that the biodiversity net gain requirement does not apply to your application you must provide the reason(s) why, and may also need to supply evidence (especially where you believe the application is eligible for the 'de minimis' exemption).

You can use our partner's free online tool to determine if you are exempt and to produce detailed reasons

Please add all the reasons why biodiversity net gain does not apply and enter a justification for each one

Reason biodiversity net gain does not apply:
Development subject to the de minimis exemption (development below the threshold)

What best describes the size of your site?:
Under 25 square metres

Please justify the reason why biodiversity net gain does not apply:
Impacts less than 25 square metres (5m by 5m) of on-site habitat

Note: Please read the help text for further information why developments may be exempt or not in scope.
