Comment Reasons:

Comment: I understand the drivers for this and as a Labour member support the social housing aspect. However, I'm a Chorlton resident and this is the wrong development on a number of counts

1. There are too many residents and not enough parking - this will turn Chorlton into a carpark and make congestion and therefore air quality unacceptable
2. Visually the red brick is not in keeping with the environment.
3. Too high - 10 storeys is way too high. The height should be capped at 8 maximum
4. Too little space for retail - half what it used to be. This means less independent retail jobs
