Comment Reasons:

Comment: I support this development fully. I find it difficult to get around, do not have access to a car and find using the buses at busy times next to impossible as they are full. The curry mile does not meet my needs for food. Sainsburys is too far to walk, and Lidl opposite Whitworth Park is frequently inaccessible and understocked after it has been raided by students. All the facilities available to me are run for students and NOT local residents. I work in Trafford and having a Lidl store near me would be a godsend, saving me time, money and frustration. Also the cycle lanes are frequently ignored by cyclists in this area, so I fail to see why they should be more accommodated than they already are. Any congestion in the area has been this way for years and exists with or without a new Lidl. The area local to me is crying out for such a quality grocery store.
