Biodiversity net gain

Biodiversity net gain is a legal requirement for planning permission introduced on 12 February 2024. All applications are required to either provide detailed information proving there will be a biodiversity increase; or explain why the requirement does not apply to the development.

Find out more about biodiversity net gain, and access digital tools from our partners that can help determine if you are exempt, or produce the biodiversity metric information required.

Do you believe that, if the development is granted permission, the general Biodiversity Gain Condition (as set out in Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (as amended)) would apply?

◯ Yes
⊘ No

Biodiversity net gain has been introduced as a general condition for planning permission. As set out in The Environment Act 2021: "grants of planning permission in England [are] to be subject to a condition to secure that the biodiversity gain objective is met". Therefore, in England, all planning permissions are generally subject to biodiversity gain rules, unless they are specifically exempt or out of scope.

If you have stated that the biodiversity net gain requirement does not apply to your application you must provide the reason(s) why, and may also need to supply evidence (especially where you believe the application is eligible for the 'de minimis' exemption).

You can use our partner's free online tool to determine if you are exempt and to produce detailed reasons

Please add all the reasons why biodiversity net gain does not apply and enter a justification for each one

Reason biodiversity net gain does not apply:
Development subject to the de minimis exemption (development below the threshold)

What best describes the size of your site?:
Over 25 square metres

Please justify the reason why biodiversity net gain does not apply:
As we are adding food provisons to an existing car wash site. We will look at adding planters with native plans, we are exploring adding a green roof or wall potentially.

Note: Please read the help text for further information why developments may be exempt or not in scope.

Please describe the activities and processes which would be carried out on the site and the end products including plant, ventilation or air conditioning. Please include the type of machinery which may be installed on site:

The site currently operates as a car wash and car dealership facility. The proposed addition of an external food unit is intended to support the existing businesses on site. The food unit will be used for the preparation and sale of food and beverages to customers, providing a complementary service to the car wash and dealership. The food unit will be self-contained with its own independent ventilation and air conditioning systems, ensuring proper airflow and minimising any odour emissions.

Machinery to be installed on site for the food unit may include:

Cooking equipment (e.g. grills, fryers, ovens depending on the type of food)

Refrigeration units (for food storage)

Ventilation/Extraction system (to handle cooking fumes and air quality)

Air conditioning (for climate control within the food unit)

The existing car wash operation will continue as usual, with no significant change to the activities already being carried out. The machinery used at the car wash includes high-pressure washers and drying equipment for vehicle cleaning. I would again confirm that hot food sales on site would require planning permission. If you are adding individual huts/units, to complement existing activities, you would be adding this to the existing site uses, if the units are purely intended to operate as an ancillary element to the existing uses. If they are to operate independently, this would be a change of use of that part of the site.
The exception to this is that you can operate for up to 28 days in a calendar year, without the need for planning permission .

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:
(a) a member of staff
(b) an elected member
(c) related to a member of staff
(d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
