Comment:Hi,

Having already replied and opposed this idea several months ago I am shocked to see the planned building is still pushing forward. Actually living on chain road the traffic is already terrible as it is with several double decker buses driving down to reach the schools and not to mention all the parents racing down the road and constantly parking over our drive entrance waiting for school children. My concerns are as follows - the sheer amount of traffic will make the road even more dangerous and we will be lucky to park/get off our drive entrance.

- The estate is slowly getting rougher with more and more gangs knocking about and frequently seeing what I'm guessing is drug deals done by cars on the street - adding community centres etc is just adding to the already growing problem. Children are being robbed of belongings at knife point and this building is set to bring what looks like over 1000 people given the building size and plans . I want to enjoy my weekends off work not be made to listen or put up with the sheer amount of traffic/noise and people literally using the end of our street as a social party gathering with little to no respect to people not in their congregation
