Comment Reasons:

Comment: I've lived in Withington for close to 30 years and it's always been a place that has struggled with new businesses grabbing hold and sticking around. There are a few successes and they should be celebrated and encouraged. My experience of Theo and his team at Something More Productive has always been positive. It's taken an empty space and turned it into something warm and valuable. I also feel that they are respectful lot, both of their neighbours and the larger community, being involved in local community matters when they can. Not all businesses offer something above the things they sell and SMP does that. I can understand why one, or two actual neighbours may be wary of these small extensions of their opening hours, but for Withington at large it shouldn't be a difficult decision, if it means that SMP can stick around. They offer a great alternative to other local businesses whether that be in the form of their food, entertainment, or drink. I and my family are all in favour of these extensions and hope that others and the council see this as an opportunity to support local independent business rather than try to shut them down.
