Comment Reasons:

Comment: Theo and the SMP cafe are a shining example of the socially responsible, independent and vibrant business that Withington desperately needs. The Withington regeneration framework and the recent upgrades to copson street and the new square are pointless if we can't help businesses like this survive and indeed thrive. It would be a travesty if it were to close and has become a proper community led space curated with ethical, locally sourced produce and suppliers. there has to be recognition that businesses like this need some sensible flexibility to survive - we've lost almost famous and the libertine, we simply can't lose another.
