Negotiations

Issues have arisen in the consultation phase.

The proposed front extension would be detrimental to the amenities of adjoining residential occupants, in particular by reason of its 2600mm forward projection, would result in an unduly overbearing visual appearance to the occupants of the adjoining dwellings

Updated proposed development.

The updated scheme scales back the proposed development. Limiting the projection of the porch to 1800mm and 3.8sqm in total. The front extension feature is limited to 650mm projection from the principal elevation.

The Manchester Core Strategy Development Plan (2012-2027)

We have assessed the proposal against the following policies of the Core Strategy.

Development Management and Planning Obligations

DM 1 – Development Management

New developments must adhere to the 'Development Principles' and design guidance in the Supplementary Planning Documents.

We have assessed the proposal against the following issues.

Appropriate siting, layout, scale, form, massing, materials, and detail

The new addition is designed to match the style and features of the current building. This includes the windows.

The proposal uses tile to match the existing property (according to the application form). New materials introduced, light grey render is complementary to the existing colour and texture palette of the area.

The proposal is designed to be subservient to the original dwelling house being entirely at ground floor.

It is noted that the porch feature is 3.8sqm which is only 0.8sqm beyond permitted development which would be the fallback position for this development.

The new projection is only 100mm beyond the existing bay and therefore wouldn't add significant massing to the principal elevation.

Officers consider the new development to be acceptable in its siting, layout, scale, form, massing, materials, and detail.

Impact on the surrounding areas in terms of the design, scale, and appearance of the proposed development. Development should have regard to the character of the surrounding area.

The proposal can be seen from the street, however its minimal massing, design and use of materials minimising the effect to the street's character.

The proposed development won't significantly change the area's character, so its appearance is acceptable.

The proposal is similar in size and scale to others nearby, with existing bay features in the street scene and porches nearby. Therefore, it can fit on the property site and won't disrupt the area's existing features.

The proposal's design would match the nearby properties. It would use the specified render and tile.

In general, the proposed development has little impact on the surrounding areas. The design, scale, and appearance are all in line with the development management principle.

Effects on amenity, including privacy, light, noise, vibration, air quality, odours, litter, vermin, birds, road safety and traffic generation.

The proposal adds 1 no window in the front of the building. It doesn't unduly affect privacy because there are other windows to this elevation.

The proposal is expected to have a negligible effect on local light.

The proposal in of itself has a negligible effect on local noise levels or vibration. We understand that demolition and construction can be loud and disruptive to the local residents. Contractors should use construction guidance to reduce emissions and minimize disruptions for residents.

The proposal is expected to have a negligible effect on air quality or odours.

The proposal is expected to have a negligible effect on litter, vermin, or birds.

The proposal is expected to have a negligible effect on road safety and traffic generation.

Overall, the proposal has a negligible impact on privacy, light, noise, air quality, and other factors. So, it follows this principle of development management.

Accessibility: buildings and neighbourhoods fully accessible to disabled people, access to new development by sustainable transport modes.

The proposal adds a new porch feature but does not change how people can get in and out of the building.

The proposal is therefore in accordance with this development management principle.

Adequacy of internal accommodation and external amenity space.

The proposal adds space inside the property with minimal effect to the outdoor area.

This follows the development management principle.

Refuse storage and collection.

The proposal itself has little impact on waste from the site. It uses the current storage and collection methods on site. We recognize that demolition and/or construction works often generate commercial waste. We expect contractors to follow best practices in waste management.

The proposal is in accordance with this development management principle.

Vehicular access and car parking

The proposal doesn't change how vehicles access and park at the property, so it follows the development management principle.

Effects relating to biodiversity, landscape, archaeological or built heritage

The applicant and consultees did not find any contamination or stability issues at the site.

The proposal does not sit within a Conservation Area or near a designated heritage asset.

The proposal is exempt from biodiversity net gain rules as a householder application.

On balance the proposal has minimal effect on local biodiversity, landscape, archaeological or built heritage and is therefore in accordance with this development management principle.

Green Infrastructure including open space, both public and private

The dwelling benefits from a garden beyond the siting of the proposed development.

The proposal would minimally affect green infrastructure and would balance new development with existing green space.

The proposal is therefore in accordance with this development management principle.

Flood risk and drainage.

The site is not located in a flood risk area and therefore does not require a flood statement or assessment.

The proposal has a negligible impact on drainage using the existing drainage on site.

The proposal is therefore in accordance with this development management principle.

Compliance with the Equality Duty involves consciously thinking about the aims of the Equality Duty as part of the process of decision-making.

Human Rights Act 1998 considerations

This application needs to be considered against the provisions of the Human Rights Act 1998. Under Article 6, the applicants (and those third parties, including local residents, who have made representations) have a right to a fair hearing and to this end the local planning authority must give full consideration to their comments.

Protocol 1 Article 1, and Article 8 where appropriate, confer(s) a right of respect for a person's home, other land and business assets. In taking account of all material considerations, including Council policy as set out in the Core Strategy and saved policies of the Unitary Development Plan, the Director of Planning, Building Control & Licensing has concluded that some rights conferred by these articles on the applicant(s)/objector(s)/resident(s) and other occupiers and owners of nearby land that might be affected may be interfered with but that that interference is in accordance with the law and justified by being in the public interest and on the basis of the planning merits of the development proposal. She believes that any restriction on these rights posed by the recommendation given is proportionate to the wider benefits of and that such a decision falls within the margin of discretion afforded to the Council under the Town and Country Planning Acts.

Conclusion

After thorough consideration of the proposed development at 137 Broadoak Road, it is concluded that the application for the erection of a single-storey front extension/porch with the redesign of the existing bay window is acceptable. The proposal aligns with local, regional, and national planning policies, including the Manchester Core Strategy Development Plan and the National Planning Policy Framework. The design, scale, and materials of the extension are in keeping with the character of the surrounding area and will have minimal impact on the amenities of neighbouring properties. Therefore, the recommendation is to approve the application, subject to the specified conditions.
