Hi Dave,

I wanted to raise an issue with the application at 114 Old Lansdowne Road. The issue being raised with me is the variation of the finish compared to the character of the conservation area. The windows at the rear of the property don't match the original application and they can not be opened. This is another example of retrospective planning and significant changes.

I don't think these changes are in character with the conservation area. In this example the building had serious issues when the building collapsed during. The building was being monitored and a decision was made for the building to be rebuilt exactly as it was. This is now being retrospectively changed. This should have been monitored to ensure that the building is rebuilt in character with the area so I am shocked that this retrospective has happened without the council being aware. I would have thought the council would have monitored this build after we had to work with the safety inspectorate.

Thanks
Richard

Dear All,

Please find attached this week's planning list.

I went to have a look at 114 Old Lansdowne Rd (140396). there are aspects of the new planning app to do with the landscaping & biodiversity I will cover in my E report but I wanted to draw your attention to gross alterations to the rear elevation which look very odd- extensive black ('NedZink Noir') cladding on ground floor and 2 outsized windows/ fixed glaze panels on the second floor (totally out of character with CA) directly overlooking houses behind.- nothing like this was on the original planning application (124773). The 2nd floor glazed panels have been installed already- see photo attached . It seems very odd having huge windows that don't open. (The rear of 114 can just be seen thru fence from back garden of 83 Clyde Rd where the landlord gave me permission to have a look). The developer at 114 has taken yet more liberties here.

Alison
