Morning Jen,

Thanks for your email.

All demolition work will be down to slab level with no breaking of the ground. All slabs and foundations are to remain in situ.

Further details are provided in the submitted work manual produced by Perses (which I've also attached again for ease).

If you have any further questions, please let me know.

Kind regards,

Lydia Connell

Lydia

Thanks for the above. Do you have any details of the ground conditions for this site - or can you confirm there will be no breaking of the ground?

Thanks Jen
