

Design and Access & Heritage Statement

This listing description is principally to aid identification. While list descriptions will include mention of those features which led English Heritage to recommend listing, they are not intended to provide a comprehensive or exclusive record of all the features of importance, and the amount of information given in descriptions varies considerably. Absence from the list description of any reference to a feature (whether external or internal) does not, therefore, indicate that it is not of interest or that it can be removed or altered without consent. Where there is doubt, the advice of the local planning authority should be sought.

Statement –

When selecting the signage for this listed building, consideration has been given to its historical nature in terms of the sizing and design of the new signage.

The brass plaques either side of the entrance are to replace exiting, we have chosen a brass effect for this to enhance the appearance of the building itself.

The projecting signs will allow more notice to be shown to the building, whilst also being wary of the nature of the building.
