

Figure 78: Looking north-east along the north, Tonman Street elevation.

Figure 79: Detail of the cast and wrought iron columns and roof structure to the north-east corner.

Figure 80: Looking east along the northern side of the building. The brick eastern wall was constructed in 1894 as part of the formation of the auction room.

Figure 81: Looking south-east from the north elevation.

Figure 82: Looking west along the north elevation towards Barton Street.

Figure 83: The 1894 east elevation.

Figure 84: Detail looking up at the south-east corner lantern.

Figure 85: Looking east along the southern elevation.

Figure 86: Detail of the interface between the original 1870s cast iron external column and the 1894 brick infill to the east elevation.

Figure 87: The small south-east modern enclosure used by the adjacent restaurant.

Figure 88: Looking west through the market from the east elevation.

Figure 89: The western entrance from Barton Street, showing the modern 1980s corrugated metal doors, which conceal the only surviving pair of original cast iron gates within the building.

Figure 90: The west entrance showing the two original gates protruding to either side of the modern 1980s doors.

Figure 91: A closeup of the top of the concealed northernmost gate.

Figure 92: Detail of one of the original cast iron column bases.

Figure 93: Detail of one of the original decorative Corinthian cast iron capitals.

Figure 94: An example of one of the external columns to the north elevation.

Figure 95: Detail of one of the Corinthian capitals to the northern external wall.

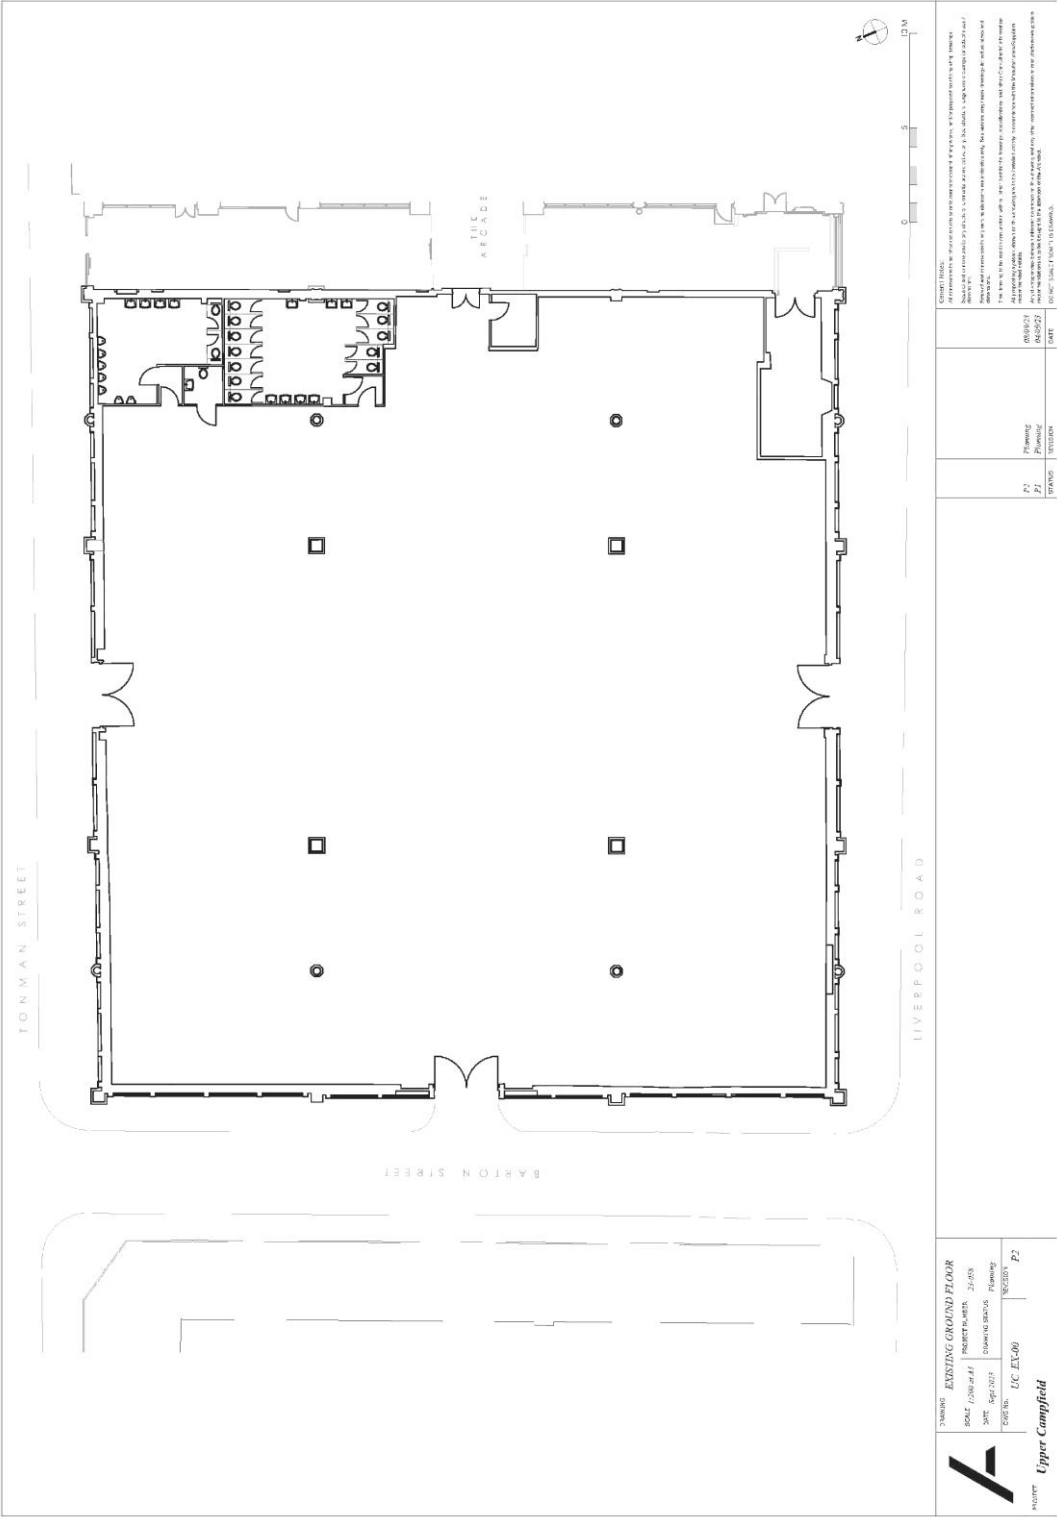

Figure 96: A view looking up at the raised central roof structure towards the east elevation.

Figure 97: A view looking north up at the roof structure.

7. APPENDICES

7.1 Appendix i – 2023 architectural plans by Allied London

Stephen Levrant : Heritage Architecture Ltd

CONSERVATION ARCHITECTS & HERITAGE CONSULTANTS

62 British Grove, Chiswick, London

0208 748 5501

Canada House, 3 Chepstow Street, Manchester M1 5FW

0161 806 0410