Comment Reasons:

Comment: As a disabled person who lives nearby to this development I wholeheartedly support it. It will make an affordable supermarket available within reachable distance to me - the only other large supermarket directly located in Chorlton is Morrisons, which has been calculated as one of the most expensive supermarkets in the country. It is necessary to have affordable and accessible necessities such as this within easily reached distance, especially for people like me who don't drive and struggle with mobility. I know there have been some objections due to an increase in traffic - however I think there is a good amount of public transport to the area that the council can advertise as another option to get to this new store
