Comment: I'm so excited for this Lidl! It's honestly a bit sad, but there are no good supermarkets in Chorlton bar Morrison's which is really expensive so I have to get deliveries instead (not great for carbon emissions). It could be a really good opportunity to get some cycle lanes in the area connecting to the new lanes put in on Barlow Moor Rd (maybe one Mauldeth Rd to the main c lanes into town?), and I'd love to see more people cycling around Chorlton, as it's congested around here as it is. Having it right next to the tram stop would be ideal for commuting, grabbing some bits after work. The current building on the site is a bit dead/looks pretty lame, so replacing it by a Lidl (also looks pretty lame it must be said) won't be a net negative. Ideally it would have a Lidl bakery too because all of our bakers are all the way into Chorlton and even then it's only Martin's (which is an inferior bakery imo). Anyway hope you're having a good day whoever reads this. Really hope it gets built, if anything just so we can save a packet :) ciao
