Description of site/building

The proposal relates to the Sheavyn House student accommodation block on the University of Manchester Fallowfield Campus. The block is a relatively modern (1993) addition, four stories made of brick with steep pitched tiled roof with roof dormers. Existing fenestrations are painted timber. Some surface water flood risk is located around the building.

Description of area

The proposal is within the University of Manchester Fallowfield Campus. Sheavyn House is a relatively modern addition to the site which features the Grade II listed Ashburne Hall and Behrens Hall around a landscaped quad. The wider campus features a mix of historic listed buildings, along with more recent additions including the tower block to the immediate south of the site.

Description of development

Elevational alterations including replacement windows, replacement roof lights, replacement curtain walling, and installation of photovoltaic panels to the existing pitched roof.

Aluminium Windows

The existing timber windows are located to the main and rear elevation of the building. They are timber framed with grey paint decoration. The windows generally consist of 1no top-hung opening casement with some dormer windows. The existing timber windows are in poor condition generally with rotten and damaged sections to numerous windows. Multiple previous repairs are evident, as well as peeling decorations and moss growth. Aside from condition, many of the windows, particularly to bedrooms, have no trickle vents which would be a beneficial addition to improve ventilation. It is proposed that these windows are replaced with new aluminium framed windows, of the same design as the existing.

Aluminium Curtain Walling

There are 5no sections of aluminium framed curtain walling to the building. It is proposed these sections are replaced with new aluminium framed curtain walling sections of the same design, to match the new aluminium windows.

Velux Rooflights

It is proposed the existing rooflights are replaced with new Velux rooflights.

Solar PV Panels

It is proposed that solar PV panels are installed to the pitched roof on the south facing elevation. The panels will have a black or silver anodized aluminium frame with the panel being 3.2mm thick tempered glass.

RELEVANT POLICIES

In accordance with Section 38(6) of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, decisions on planning applications must be made in line with the statutory development plan, unless material considerations indicate otherwise.

For Manchester, the development plan comprises:

- The Core Strategy (2012–2027)

ASSESSMENT

Principle of development

The proposal seeks to upgrade and refurbish existing student accommodation through the replacement of windows, rooflights and curtain walling, along with the installation of solar panels. This maintains the established use of the building within the University of Manchester's Fallowfield Campus. National policy encourages effective use of land and supports measures that improve the energy efficiency of existing buildings (NPPF Sections 2, 11 and 14).

Locally, Policy DM1 of the Core Strategy requires high-quality, well-designed development, and Policy H12 supports purpose-built student accommodation in appropriate locations within the city. The site sits within an established education area, further supported through Places for Everyone policies promoting sustainable development and investment in education facilities (JP-S1, JP-S2, JP-P5).

In addition, there is a realistic fallback position under permitted development rights. Like-for-like replacements of windows and rooflights can often proceed without planning permission where they do not materially alter the external appearance of the building. The proposed solar PV panels also benefit from a potential PD fallback under Part 14, Class J of the General Permitted Development Order, which permits the installation of solar PV on buildings (including up to 1m projection) subject to meeting specified limitations and conditions. While planning permission has been sought, due in part to the site's relationship with listed buildings and to regularise all elevational changes, the presence of this fallback reduces the level of planning harm arising from the proposal.

Given the limited and mainly like-for-like nature of the works, their contribution to energy efficiency, and the strong alignment with local and national policy objectives, the principle of development is acceptable.

As stated in Policy DM 1 of the Manchester Core Strategy, all development should have regard to the following specific issues:

Appropriate siting, layout, scale, form, massing, materials, and detail

The proposed works are limited to external refurbishments and energy-efficiency upgrades, and they have been designed to sit comfortably within the established built form of Sheavyn House.

The replacement windows, curtain walling and rooflights follow the existing opening sizes and layouts and use materials that match the appearance of the original building, ensuring the overall scale, massing and form remain unchanged.

The proposed solar panels are positioned on the south-facing pitched roof where they are minimally visible from public viewpoints, and their dark-framed finish helps them sit discreetly against the existing roof covering.

The limited visual impact, combined with the like-for-like nature of most alterations, ensures that the development remains in keeping with the building's current appearance, consistent with local and national design policies promoting well-designed, context-appropriate development.

Impact on the surrounding areas in terms of the design, scale and appearance of the proposed development. Development should have regard to the character of the surrounding area.

The proposed works are modest and largely like-for-like, meaning the overall design, scale, and appearance of Sheavyn House would remain consistent with its existing built form.

The replacement windows, curtain walling and rooflights follow the established pattern of openings and do not introduce any new massing or features that would alter how the building is experienced within the campus environment. These elements repeat existing arrangements and maintain the current character of the building's elevations.

The proposed solar panels are positioned on the south-facing pitched roof where views are limited and where their dark finish allows them to sit discreetly against the roof covering, minimising any visual impact.

As a result, the development remains in keeping with the appearance of the wider Fallowfield Campus, which contains a mix of historic listed buildings and more modern student accommodation blocks. Overall, the proposal preserves the established character of the surrounding area.

Effects on amenity

Privacy

The proposal involves only the replacement of existing windows and rooflights, with no new window openings or changes to their position. As these elements match the current layout and do not introduce any additional opportunities for overlooking, the development would not materially change the relationship with nearby properties. As a result, the proposal would not harm the privacy of neighbouring occupiers.

Light

The development does not add new bulk or change the scale or massing of the building. Because the works are limited to like-for-like replacements and roof-mounted solar panels that sit close to the roof slope, there is no material impact on available daylight or sunlight to neighbouring properties.

Noise

The works are not expected to generate noise beyond typical refurbishment and construction activity, which is temporary and can be managed through standard working practices. The proposal does not introduce any new plant, equipment, or uses that would result in ongoing noise impacts.

Birds

A condition has been included requiring bird-proofing around the perimeter of the PV panels. This is necessary to prevent birds nesting or roosting beneath the panels, as the sheltered and warm space can attract them. Reducing opportunities for birds to gather is important for aerodrome safety, as it helps to minimise the risk of bird strike in the vicinity of Manchester Airport. An added benefit is that it also helps to reduce nuisance associated with large or verminous bird populations.

Accessibility: buildings and neighbourhoods fully accessible to disabled people, access to new development by sustainable transport modes.

The proposal does not change how people enter or move around the building, and no alterations are proposed that would reduce accessibility for disabled people.

Effects relating to biodiversity, landscape, archaeological or built heritage

Built heritage

The application site is located within the curtilage of several Grade II listed buildings, including Ashburne Hall, and Behrens Hall. However, Sheavyn House itself is a modern (1993) addition to the campus and is architecturally and visually distinct from these historic assets.

The proposed works are limited to replacing existing windows, curtain walling and rooflights on a like-for-like basis, along with the addition of discreetly positioned solar panels on the south-facing roof slope.

As these alterations do not change the building's scale, form or appearance in any meaningful way, the proposals do not introduce new visual competition with the listed buildings, nor do they intrude into their setting. The improvements maintain the functional and visual separation that already exists between Sheavyn House and the surrounding heritage assets.

In line with the NPPF's requirement to give great weight to the conservation of heritage assets (Section 16), the development would not result in harm to the significance or setting of nearby listed buildings. Overall, the scheme is acceptable in built-heritage terms.

Flood risk and drainage.

The site lies within an area identified as having some susceptibility to surface water flooding, although this is limited and does not affect the building itself. The proposal involves only external refurbishments and does not increase the building's footprint or hard-surfaced areas. As such, it does not introduce any additional sources of flood risk or place greater pressure on existing drainage infrastructure.

Existing or proposed hazardous installations.

Manchester Airport's Safeguarding Officer was consulted due to the proposed installation of solar PV panels on the roof. Solar panels can create sheltered, warm spaces beneath their lower edges, which can attract birds seeking nesting or roosting opportunities. This can lead to an increase in bird activity in the area, which is a concern for flight safety because higher numbers of birds can increase the risk of bird-strike to aircraft operating from or approaching the airport. The Safeguarding Officer raised no objections to the development but recommended that a condition be imposed requiring bird-proofing around the full perimeter of the PV array. This ensures there are no gaps beneath the panels where birds could enter or form habitats. They also advised that the applicant should take note of the standard aerodrome-safety informatives attached to the decision.

OTHER LEGISLATIVE REQUIREMENTS

Equality Act 2010

Section 149 (Public Sector Equality Duty) of the Equality Act 2010 requires due regard to the need to: Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and other conduct prohibited by the Act and; Advance equality of opportunity between persons who share a protected characteristic and persons who do not share it. The Equality Duty does not impose a legal requirement to conduct an Equality Impact Assessment. Compliance with the Equality Duty involves consciously thinking about the aims of the Equality Duty as part of the process of decision-making.

Human Rights Act 1998 considerations

This application needs to be considered against the provisions of the Human Rights Act 1998. Under Article 6, the applicants (and those third parties, including local residents, who have made representations) have a right to a fair hearing and to this end the local planning authority must give full consideration to their comments.

Protocol 1 Article 1, and Article 8 where appropriate, confer(s) a right of respect for a person's home, other land and business assets. In taking account of all material considerations, including Council policy as set out in the Core Strategy and saved policies of the Unitary Development Plan, the Director of Planning, Building Control & Licensing has concluded that some rights conferred by these articles on the applicant(s)/objector(s)/resident(s) and other occupiers and owners of nearby land that might be affected may be interfered with but that that interference is in accordance with the law and justified by being in the public interest and on the basis of the planning merits of the development proposal. She believes that any restriction on these rights posed by the recommendation given is proportionate to the wider benefits of and that such a decision falls within the margin of discretion afforded to the Council under the Town and Country Planning Acts.

PLANNING BALANCE & CONCLUSION

The proposed works are modest, largely like-for-like replacements that improve the condition, appearance and energy efficiency of the existing student accommodation. They would not harm the amenity of neighbours, would preserve the setting of nearby listed buildings, and raise no issues in relation to flood risk, accessibility or airport safeguarding. The scheme aligns with local and national policy objectives to support sustainable development and upgrade existing buildings. As there are no identified harms that would outweigh these benefits, the proposal represents an acceptable form of development.
