

In relation to discharging the condition on external music, we will not be installing any outside speakers, and therefore believe we do not need to discharge this condition.