Samples of Finish and Paint colour

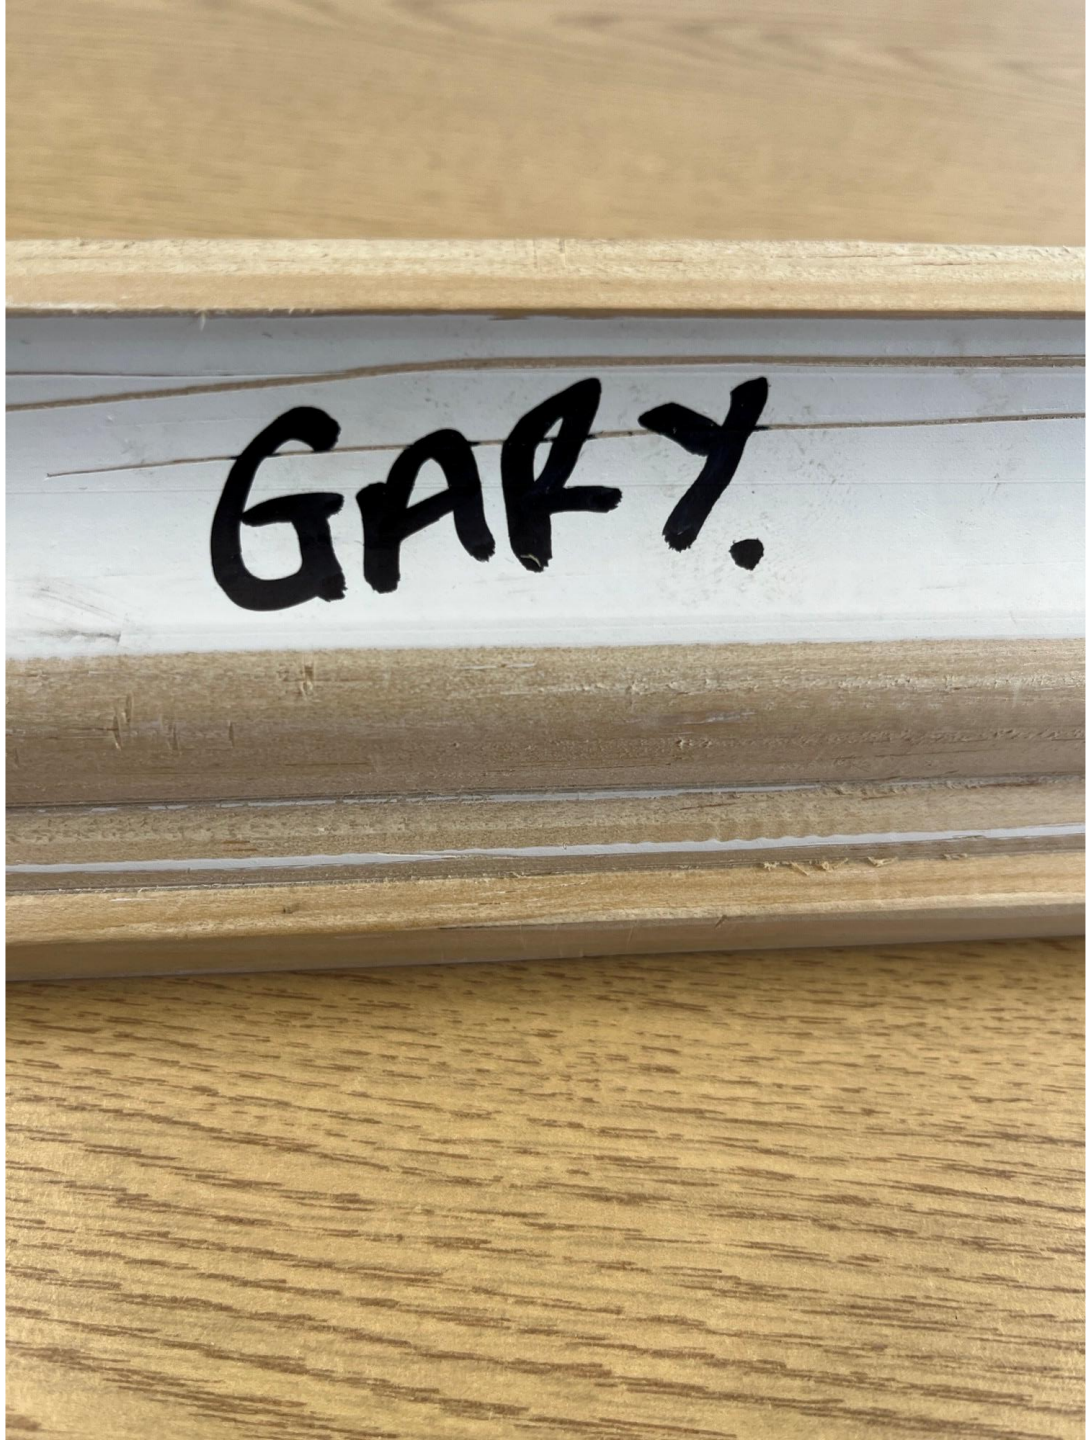

Timber case to be decorated 'dark green'. Little Green colour 'Puck' ref 298.

Puck™ (298)

Save to Project

Puck is a strong shade of green paint, discovered as part of our collaboration with the National Trust. Shakespeare famously used the name in his 1600 work A Midsummer Night's Dream, for the character also known as Robin Goodfellow, but the origin of the word Puck in folklore is older still. Consistently a mischievous but inherently lonely character, a primary goal for this fabled, pixie-like forest-dweller is the simple acquisition of friends. This green paint colour creates a striking all-over scheme indoors and outside. Or, use Puck alongside French Grey on woodwork to create a warm and welcoming atmosphere.

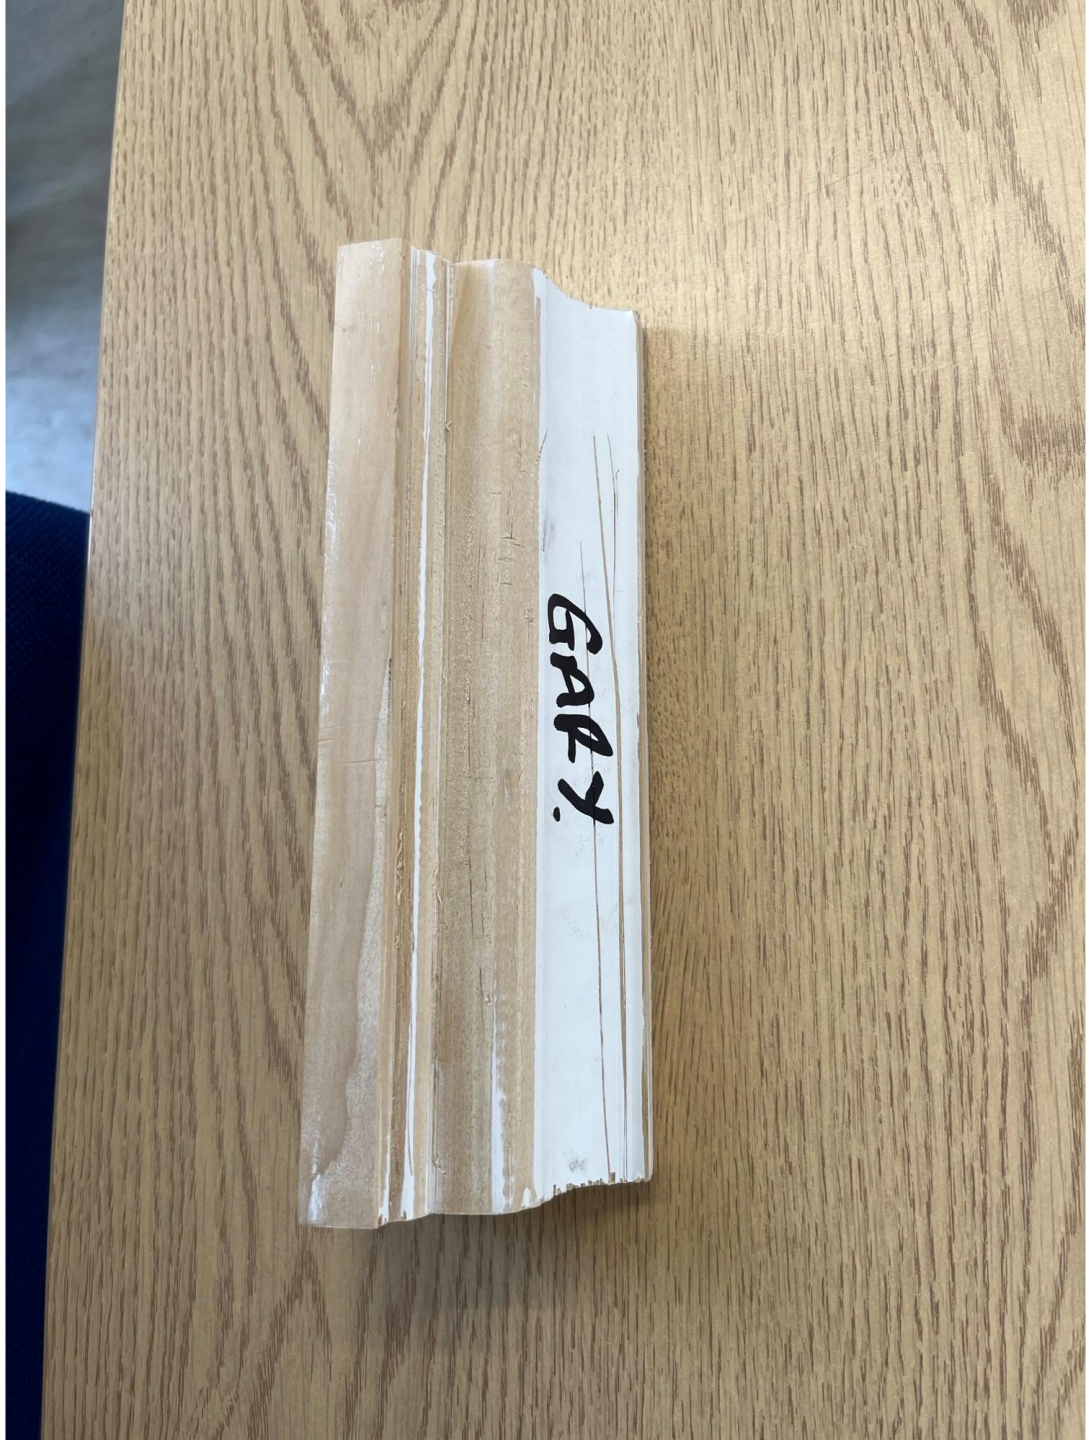

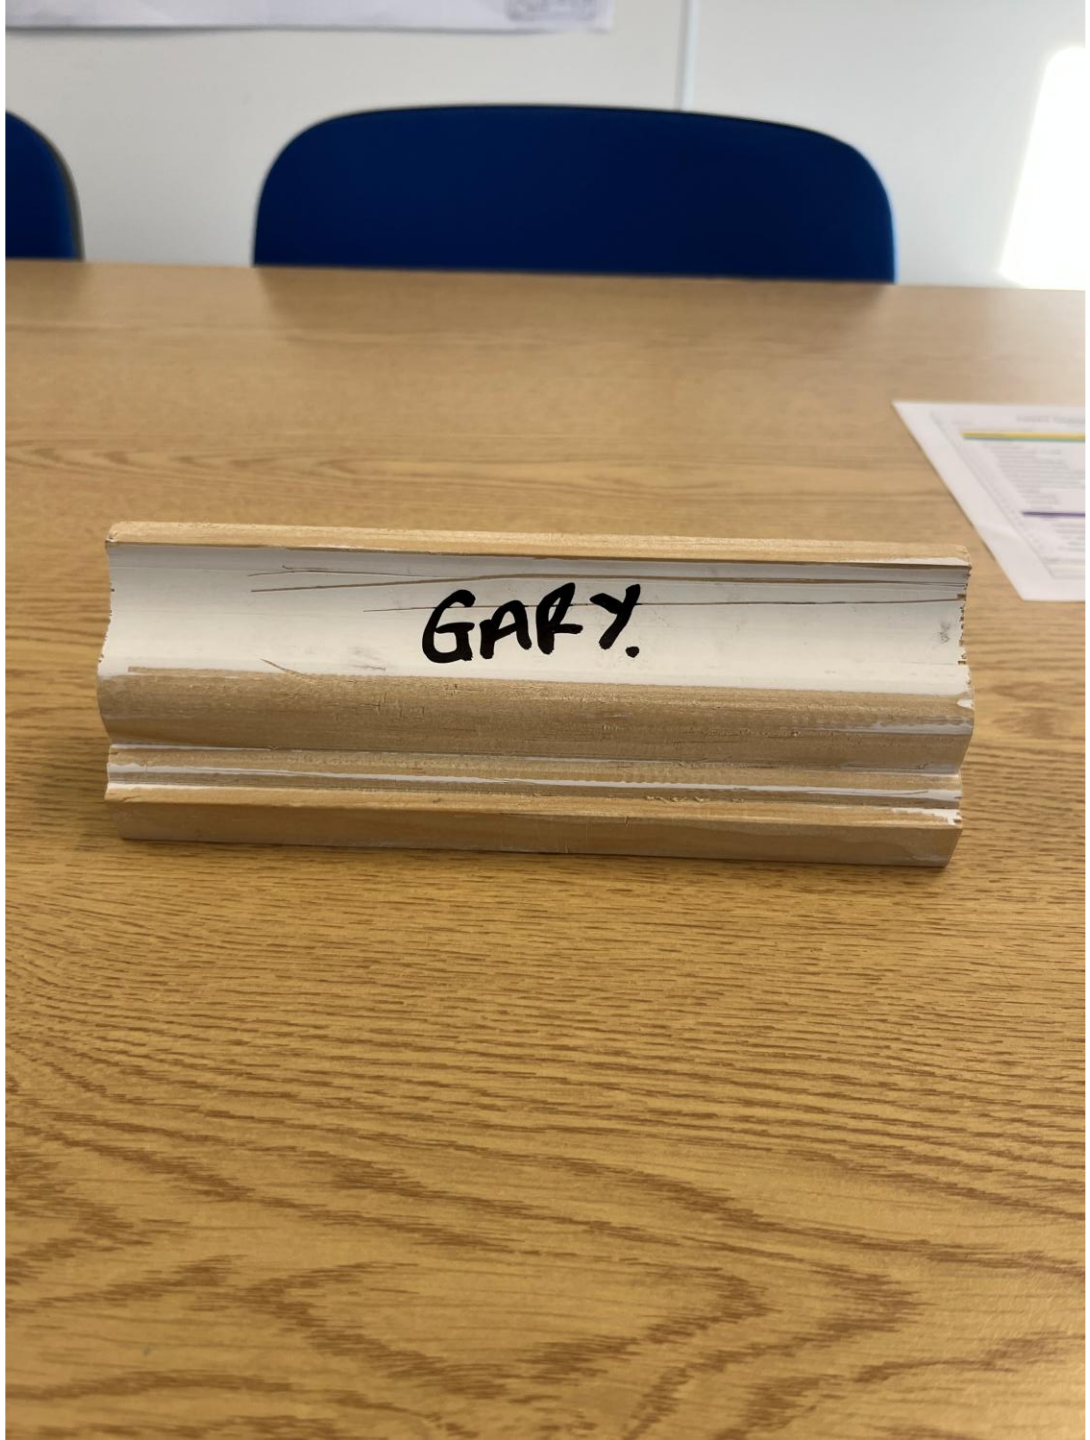

Puck™ (298)

Save to Project

Puck is a strong shade of green paint, discovered as part of our collaboration with the National Trust. Shakespeare famously used the name in his 1600 work A Midsummer Night's Dream, for the character also known as Robin Goodfellow, but the origin of the word Puck in folklore is older still. Consistently a mischievous but inherently lonely character, a primary goal for this fabled, pixie-like forest-dweller is the simple acquisition of friends. This green paint colour creates a striking all-over scheme indoors and outside. Or, use Puck alongside French Grey on woodwork to create a warm and welcoming atmosphere.

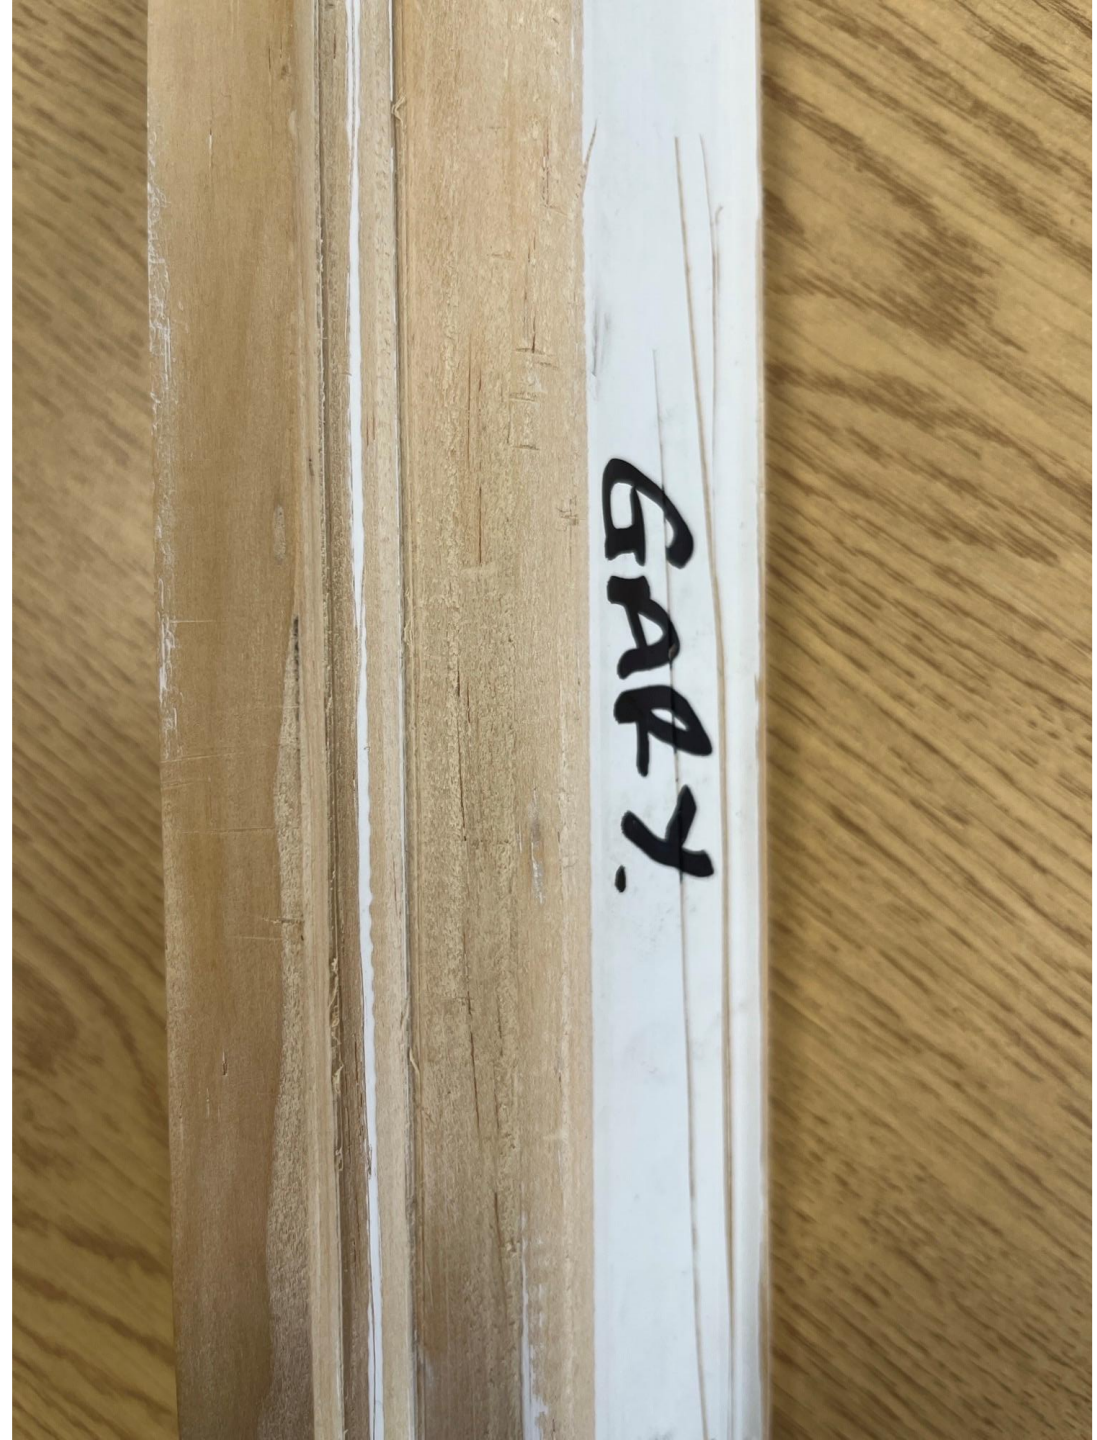

GARY.

GARY.

GARY.

GARY.