Stance: Customer made comments in support of the Planning Application

Comment Reasons:

Comment: The motion should be granted as the marquee is essential for our community activities and functions.

Article 9 of the Human Rights Act 1998 (HRA) supports religious activities by protecting the right to freedom of thought, conscience, and religion.

This article, which gives effect to the equivalent article in the European Convention on Human Rights (ECHR), has two key parts:

Absolute right to hold beliefs: This protects an individual's internal beliefs (religious or non-religious) and the freedom to change them, which cannot be interfered with by the state.

Qualified right to manifest beliefs: This protects the right to put one's thoughts and beliefs into action, either alone or in community with others, in public or private. This includes:

Worship, teaching, practice, and observance, Wearing religious clothing or symbols, Time off for religious holidays.

It is requested that this motion is granted and the state does not interfere in contravention of Article 9 as above.
