ISSUES

In the case of this application, the initially submitted plan has been revised in the interest of residential amenity and revised plans were subsequently submitted, dated (14/04/26 - Floor Plans and Elevations as Proposed, REV C, SHT 002).

Principle of development

Section 38 (6) of the Town and Country Planning Act 2004 states that applications for development should be determined in accordance with the adopted development plan unless material considerations indicate otherwise. The proposed development is an extension to a church building. This is considered acceptable in principle; provided that there is no overriding unduly harmful impact upon either the character of the property, or upon the visual and residential amenity of neighbouring occupiers. Consideration must therefore be given to the proposal's appearance, impact on the visual amenity of the area and impact on the neighbouring properties' residential amenity.

Residential and visual amenity

Impact of works (front porch extension with associated ramp, handrails and perforated roller shutter to the door set) - In the case to this application, given the revised plan (dated, 14/04/26), it is considered that the issue raised with the applicant has been sufficiently overcome. Therefore, on this basis and in light of the existing context along the front elevation involving the existing front porch as, it's intended to maintain a proposed a separation distance of approximately 2922mm from the existing front boundary wall along the back of pavement with the Rushford Street elevation; together with the fact that proposed perforated roller shutter would not front the Rushford Street elevation but rather face the side boundary.

The proposal would also include an accessible ramp with proposed 1:15 gradient and associated handrails, approximately 1063mm maximum height; together with a perforated roller shutter in brown colouration to the door set.

It is considered that the revised proposal would have minimal impact upon the residential and visual amenity of the area and would cause less than substantial harm to the character and appearance of the host building; and therefore, for these reasons and on balance, and subject to conditions, the proposed porch is considered to be acceptable in terms of its impact on residential amenity as there are no overbearing, overshadowing or loss of privacy impacts; pursuant with The Manchester Core Strategy Development Plan Document Policies EN1, SP1 and DM1.

Impact of works (Design and appearance) - In terms of design and appearance, the front porch is designed to match the style and features of the current host by using matching bricks, roof tiles and uPVC fenestration, and as such, the resultant impact on the surrounding area in terms of the design, scale, and appearance is considered acceptable; pursuant with The Manchester Core Strategy Development Plan Document policies SP1 and DM1 and saved policy DC1 of the Unitary Development Plan.

Impact of works (Refuse storage and collection) - The existing arrangement would be unaffected. The proposal itself has little impact on waste from the site. It uses the current storage and collection methods on site; pursuant with The Manchester Core Strategy Development Plan Document policy DM1, EN19; and saved policy DC1 of the Unitary Development Plan.

Impact of works (Vehicular access and car parking) - The existing arrangement would be unaffected; pursuant with The Manchester Core Strategy Development Plan Document Policy DM1 and saved Policy DC1 of the Unitary Development Plan.

Conclusions - For the reasons outlined and on balance, and subject to planning conditions, it is considered that the front porch extension responds positively to policy documents above.

Other Legislative Requirements

Equality Act 2010

Section 149 (Public Sector Equality Duty) of the Equality Act 2010 requires due regard to the need to: Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and other conduct prohibited by the Act and; Advance equality of opportunity between persons who share a protected characteristic and persons who do not share it. The Equality Duty does not impose a legal requirement to conduct an Equality Impact Assessment. Compliance with the Equality Duty involves consciously thinking about the aims of the Equality Duty as part of the process of decision-making.

Human Rights Act 1998 considerations

This application needs to be considered against the provisions of the Human Rights Act 1998. Under Article 6, the applicants (and those third parties, including local residents, who have made representations) have a right to a fair hearing and to this end the local planning authority must give full consideration to their comments.

Protocol 1 Article 1, and Article 8 where appropriate, confer(s) a right of respect for a person's home, other land and business assets. In taking account of all material considerations, including Council policy as set out in the Core Strategy and saved policies of the Unitary Development Plan, the Director of Planning, Building Control & Licensing has concluded that some rights conferred by these articles on the applicant(s)/objector(s)/resident(s) and other occupiers and owners of nearby land that might be affected may be interfered with but that that interference is in accordance with the law and justified by being in the public interest and on the basis of the planning merits of the development proposal. She believes that any restriction on these rights posed by the recommendation given is proportionate to the wider benefits of and that such a decision falls within the margin of discretion afforded to the Council under the Town and Country Planning Acts.
