Biodiversity net gain

Biodiversity net gain is a legal requirement for planning permission introduced on 12 February 2024. All applications are required to either provide detailed information proving there will be a biodiversity increase; or explain why the requirement does not apply to the development.

Do you believe that, if the development is granted permission, the general Biodiversity Gain Condition (as set out in Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (as amended)) would apply?

◯ Yes
⊘ No

Biodiversity net gain has been introduced as a general condition for planning permission. As set out in The Environment Act 2021: "grants of planning permission in England [are] to be subject to a condition to secure that the biodiversity gain objective is met". Therefore, in England, all planning permissions are generally subject to biodiversity gain rules, unless they are specifically exempt or out of scope.

If you have stated that the biodiversity net gain requirement does not apply to your application you must provide the reason(s) why, and may also need to supply evidence (especially where you believe the application is eligible for the 'de minimis' exemption).

Please add all the reasons why biodiversity net gain does not apply and enter a justification for each one

Reason biodiversity net gain does not apply:
Development site area of 0.2 hectares or below

Are there any priority habitats on or within 500m of your site?:
Yes

Can you provide evidence that no priority habitats will be impacted by the development?:
Yes

Please justify the reason why biodiversity net gain does not apply:
The application site is below 0.2 hectares. The proposal relates solely to the change of use of an existing commercial premises, with no external alterations, habitat loss or works affecting any priority habitat. The Rochdale Canal is located within 500 metres of the site, however the proposed development will have no impact upon the canal or any associated habitat.

Please read the help text for further information why developments may be exempt or not in scope.

Information on the CIL charges can be found on the local authority website. In London both Mayoral and local borough CIL charges may be applicable.

Your answers below, and in the application, will enable the local authority to establish if your development is liable for a charge and to calculate it accurately.

Further information on CIL, and what to do if you are liable can be found on the Planning Portal.

It is an offence for a person to knowingly or recklessly supply information which is false or misleading in a material respect to a collecting or charging authority in response to a requirement under the Community Infrastructure Levy Regulations (2010) as amended (regulation 110, SI 2010/948). The Council confirmed that the existing lawful use is a hot food takeaway (sui generis). The proposed restaurant and bar with ancillary hot food takeaway would represent a different sui generis use and therefore requires planning permission. The Council recommended describing the proposal as a change of use to restaurant and bar with ancillary hot food takeaway.
