Dear Mr Laweless,

I am resending the email below, as the other email address I had did not work.

Best wishes,

Subject: Objection to planning application 143666/FO/2025

Dear Mr Lawless and Ms Roscoe,

I am writing in relation to the planning application number 143666/FO/2025 and would like to formally object to the application for the following reasons: The proposed extension would significantly alter the appearance and character of [REDACTED] It would also compromise our privacy. This neighbourhood has previously experienced issues commonly associated with student housing, including noise, waste, and general disruption. We are keen to preserve the family-oriented nature and cohesion of our neighbourhood. In addition, although I understand that replacement planting has been suggested, newly planted trees will take decades to reach the environmental value of those that currently exist. This project would transform the character of the area which as you know is a conservation area and could negatively impact the local flora and fauna.

For these reasons, I strongly oppose the proposed development.

Best wishes,

[REDACTED]
